

William STUART

William joined the British at Penobscot in 1781. He had been confined and imprisoned. William Stuart served on board a privateer with relative, James Stinson and captured an American schooner.

When Castine Maine was evacuated in 1783, he came with family and his aged father, Charles, to St Andrew, Charlotte County, New Brunswick.